

Cascade Living Group Makes Donation to the Renown Health Foundation

Funds to help create Healing Garden at Renown Regional Medical Center

RENO, Nev.—Cascade Living Group, the owner and operator of the soon-to-open Cascades of the Sierra, delivered a generous donation to the Renown Health Foundation. Cascades of the Sierra will offer independent and assisted living and memory care on the 240-apartment campus now under construction in the Spanish Springs area of Sparks. Cascades of the Sierra will be adjacent to the future Renown campus in Spanish Springs. The funds from Cascade Living Group will help build Fianna's Healing Garden at Renown Regional Medical Center in downtown Reno.

Renown Health is northern Nevada's largest not-for-profit health network and has been serving the area for more than 140 years. Fianna's Healing Garden will be a tennis court-size garden located at the center of Renown Regional Medical Center. Winding paths with sitting areas and large sculptures will provide a tranquil backdrop for patients, staff and visitors to relax while on the hospital campus.

Cascade Living Group Inc. is a provider of high quality senior living and care communities in the western United States. Its first development property, Cascades of the Sierra, will have three stories of apartments built on seven acres approximately 10 miles from downtown Reno and 40 miles from Lake Tahoe. Cascades of the Sierra is set to open in 2009.
