Good Friends Make Good Neighbors Program

Seniors love living at Inland Point and since our residents are often our best spokespersons, we've created this Program to show our appreciation.

When an Inland Point resident or family member refers a new potential resident* to a Cascade Living Community and that person moves in for at least 90 days, the referring resident will receive a $4000 credit applied to their base rent.

* In order to qualify as a new potential resident, the person being referred may not already be on our contact list. To make a referral, and to ensure you receive credit for making introduction, please provide your name and the name of your friend or family member to our Executive Director or Community Relations Director prior to the inquiry or tour.

October Birthdays

In astrology, those born October 1 – 22 balance the scales of Libra. Libras seek equality, justice, and harmony. Eager to cooperate, Libras are charming diplomats who seek compromise and goodwill. Those born between October 23 – 31 are Scorpios. Scorpios are passionate and assertive leaders who value honesty and fairness above all – but betray a Scorpio and you will have not just a friend for life, but an advocate and confidant.

New Employee

Jeff Boyle
Community Relations Director

I teach stretch and tone work outs. I consider myself a lifelong learner, welcoming every new experience as another opportunity. During my off hours I enjoy developing my garden and raising chickens. Thank you to everyone at Inland Point for making it such a fantastic place to spend my days.

Resident Spotlight

Jerry Zabriskie
U.S. ARMY – LTC Retired
1957 –1987

I was born in North Bend Oregon on March 5, 1935. I met my wife Ann in North Bend High School but we didn't date until 4 years later. We have been married for 69 years. We have 3 boys, 1 girl, 13 grand kids and 14 1/2 great grand kids.

I belonged to North Bend High School Track Team. I set the record for the two mile run in 1952.

I went to West Point in 1953 and graduated in 1957. I went to Georgia Tech in 1964 – 1966. I earned a Master Degree of Electrical Engineering with Specialty of Quantum Physics. I taught electrical engineering for 3 years at West Point. I earned two bronze stars while serving in Vietnam.

I love to go fishing, camping and playing the trumpet. I want to stay alive till tomorrow. I live one day at a time.

Badges and Beyond

October shines a spotlight on scouting, a movement that has introduced millions of young people to leadership, service, and the great outdoors. October is National Scouting Month, and on the 31st, Girl Scout Founder's Day honors Juliette Gordon Low, who founded the Girl Scouts in 1912.

Scouting began in the early 1900s when British army officer Robert Baden-Powell started an organization that taught outdoor skills, teamwork, and self-reliance. The idea quickly spread around the world. Today, scouting organizations serve millions of members in more than 170 countries.

Service to others has always been at the heart of scouting. Scouts regularly collect food for pantries, clean parks and trails, plant trees, and assist with community events. Many of the movement's highest honors require significant service projects. To earn the rank of Eagle Scout, for example, participants must plan and lead a community service project that benefits a school, religious institution, or nonprofit organization.

Badges are another important part of the scouting experience. merit badges and achievement patches recognize progress and encourage members to explore new interests. Topics range from camping and first aid to astronomy, engineering, and environmental science. For many scouts, badges become milestones that mark personal growth and achievement.

Outdoor adventure is also a hallmark of scouting. Camping trips, hikes, canoeing expeditions, and nature studies teach practical skills while encouraging an appreciation for the natural world. Studies have found that participation in scouting can help young people develop confidence, leadership abilities, and a strong sense of civic responsibility.

More than a century after its beginnings, scouting continues to inspire new generations. Whether building a campfire, earning a badge, or leading a community project, scouts discover lessons that often last a lifetime. October's observances are a reminder that the values of helping others, developing skills, and exploring the outdoors remain as relevant today as ever.

Giving Back to Our Community

Pat, Ann and Helen delivered four crochet blankets and quilts for Bay Area Cancer Center. Thank You to AL and IL residents who helped make this happen .
